Talent. Experience. Litigation.

The Doyle Firm, P.C. is an AV rated civil litigation firm with offices in Phoenix, Arizona and Las Vegas, Nevada. Since Bill Doyle started the firm in 1989, we have committed ourselves to doing one thing and doing it well: litigating civil cases in state and federal courts.

Most important for success, we believe, is an active analytic approach to each case, whether it involves a multi-party class action construction defect, products liability, bad faith, catastrophic bodily injury, medical malpractice or other issues. To this end, we bring proven defense litigation talent and experience for commercial entities and professionals.

We value our long-standing relationships with our clients, whom we realize can find themselves drawn into complex and expensive litigation. We take pride in our successful track record, on behalf of our clients, in state and federal courtrooms, at mediation tables, and in front of arbitration panels.

We also enjoy and take pride in what we do, and we have organized our practice into practice teams, so that each case has the benefit of an experienced partner, a hard-working associate, and a dedicated paralegal. With seven partners, three associates, five paralegals, and our administrative staff, we deliver quality legal services in an environment where no one is a stranger, ideas are shared, and efforts are coordinated.

We work collaboratively, and have linked our Phoenix and Las Vegas offices with technologies for seamless communication and timely information-sharing. When it comes to trial preparation and litigation management, we employ proven document management systems and trial presentation systems to help maximize effective, efficient case management and litigation for clients.

Talent. Experience. Litigation.

Practice Areas

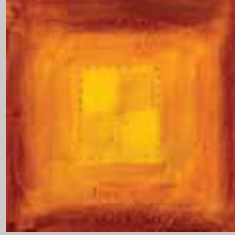

General Liability Insurance Defense: Our heritage is insurance defense, and among our partners, we have over 75 years of experience in representing commercial entities and individuals involved in all types of general liability litigation, working closely with property and casualty and personal line insurance carriers to achieve well-considered and cost-effective outcomes.

Construction Litigation: Bill Doyle, Scott McClure, and the Construction Litigation team coordinate, manage, and try these frequently complex cases, which require not only a strong grasp of design, construction and the law, but also a sensitivity to the relationships between and among commercial and residential real estate developers, general contractors, and subcontractors in cases dealing with construction defects, breach of contract and breach of warranty.

Class Action Litigation: Whether in the context of a construction defect or products liability case, we understand and enjoy the challenge of these cases. We have been successful in challenging class certification, in working with national counsel, and in coordinating defenses and coverages. But we remember not to lose track of the forest for the trees, realizing that, once the dust settles over the procedural issues, we are trying a case.

Catastrophic Bodily Injury Defense: We defend a variety of commercial entities in cases dealing with large personal injury and property damage claims. We have found that our quick response to the accident scene is invaluable in the critical fact-gathering process and in defending these cases as they proceed to trial.

Practice Areas

Products Liability Defense: We are proud of our track record in representing manufacturers and suppliers in cases dealing with everything from sports equipment to medical devices. Bill Doyle heads this practice area.

Bad Faith and Insurance Coverage: Whether in the context of a declaratory judgment action, a third-party bad faith claim or a tender of defense analysis, these cases require a thoughtful and strategic approach. Bill Doyle and Andrew Bell provide the leadership needed to address the interplay of insurance contract analysis, the facts and the ever-changing law in this area.

Health Care Liability Defense: We defend health care facilities, physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses and other health care professionals against claims of professional negligence, in long-term care litigation, and in disciplinary board actions. With over 10 years experience in the health care field and over 15 years in health care liability defense, our representation is focused and thorough.

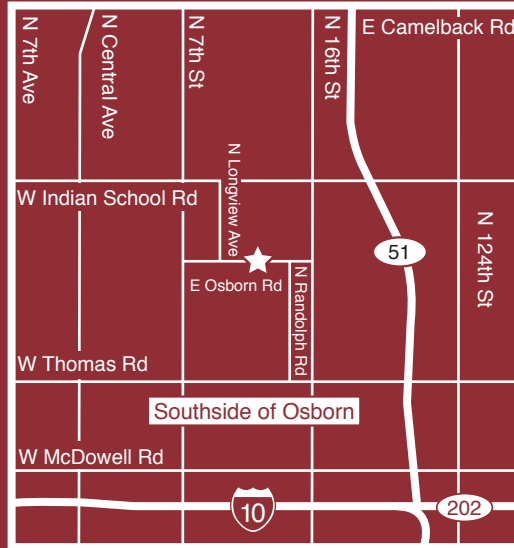

Professional Liability Defense: Professional Liability Defense: We represent all types of licensed professionals, including architects, accountants, engineers, real estate brokers, insurance agents and securities brokers and dealers. We understand the importance of retaining the right experts for the job, preparing our clients for deposition, trial or NASD arbitration, and accurately assessing liability exposure and damages. Bill Doyle takes the lead on these cases.

Appellate Advocacy: We are experienced in analyzing the record and the law in providing effective and strategic appellate representation, whether it is for a case we have taken to trial or cases tried by other counsel. Andrew Bell is our appellate specialist.
